HealthWrights Needs Your Assistance!

As 2008 comes to a close, it seems everyone is concerned about the economy—including us! Many of our regular donors have been affected by the downturn in the economy, so we are asking, especially this year, that you give whatever you can to help us continue our important work.

At a workshop in Colombia earlier this year, Walter David practiced balancing on this assistive device made for him from cardboard.

www.politicsofhealth.org

Each year David Werner travels to give workshops and technical assistance to other programs. These usually become the subject of our Newsletters, and recently, two extensive slide presentations available on CD.

We also continue to support the PROJIMO Children's Wheelchair and Work Skills Training Program in Duranguito, Mexico (see other insert with this Newsletter).

Our main Health-Wrights Web site,which has David's books available for free, attracts about 1,000 visitors each day, who are looking for health and disability information.

In addition, our Politics of Health Web site attracts thousands more visitors throughout the year. Many of those visitors are from universities. It is our hope that students who spend time exploring this site will come away with a strong understanding of the political aspects of health.

Please consider donating to any, or all of the specific funds. Every contribution, no matter how small or large, makes a difference in our ability to provide life-saving and life-enhancing materials to those who need them most.

Spanish Training Program at PROJIMO in rural Mexico

in the village of Coyotitan, 40 miles NW of Mazatlan

- Learn conversational Spanish in a rural setting.
- Volunteer in an innovative, empowering, community-based project.
- Begin any time. Stay as long as you choose.
- Individual instruction by disabled villagers.
- Live and practice Spanish with a local family.
- Typical Mexican food (vegetarians welcome)
- Health workers, activists, and disabled travelers especially welcome.
- Cost:US$200 per week—room and meals included.
- Wheelchair accessible

For more information on the program, see: www.healthwrights.org/spanishtraining.htm

To arrange a visit, contact the program at: Proyecto PROJIMO A.C.
